

Chapter 7: School Courtesy

Students:

1. Students should train hard and try to make their technique stronger at every class.
2. Students should thank their instructor(s) every time that they teach you something new.
3. When late for class, a student should warm-up in the back of the training area. When appropriate, ask permission to enter the class and take the last position in line.
4. A student requesting permission to enter, exit or re-enter class should not interrupt the Instructor or the class.
5. When leaving the line, the student will take 1 step backwards and move to the right.
6. Students are expected to attend all Test Classes even if the student is not testing.
7. When lining up, a student should be running to get in their place quickly and should immediately stand in "Attention Stance" with eyes focused forward.
8. The outward signs of a disciplined Martial Artist are; Standing Still, Eyes Forward, Strong Stances, Tight Fists, and Concentrating on instructions.
9. When sitting for prayer and mediation, the front line sits down first and when the last person has sat down the remainder of the class may sit. When standing the class stands after all the students in the front row have stood.
10. When sitting, the student's legs must be folded with hands placed on the knees and backs straight. A student never touches or leans against objects or walls.
11. A student is expected to take care of their personal needs before class. Repeated requests to leave class will result in not being granted permission to re-enter class.
12. In respect to other students, a person addressed directly more than once during a class may be asked to sit out the remainder of the class. At the end of the class the student shall locate the instructor and discuss the situation.
13. Asking the Instructor questions during class is generally considered inappropriate however, a student may ask for clarification to the specific lesson being taught by first raising their hand. General questions should be asked to a senior first and then the senior will answer or get the answer for you.
